Chandigarh: ROTTO takes organ donation awareness drive to college

PGI, this year, conducted the highest number of cadaver donations compared to previous years.

THE REGIONAL Organ and Tissue Transplant Organisation (ROTTTO) PGIMER took the Organ Donation Awareness Drive to Post Graduate Government College for Girls, Sector 42 (PGGCG-42) under the Be The Change, Be An Organ Donor project and organised an awareness camp for the NSS volunteers on the college premises on Thursday.

A PGI statement said the camp was attended by over 80 students and it witnessed an enthusiastic response with 62 students taking a pledge to donate organs on the spot and many taking the pledge forms for their friends and families as well as volunteering to promote the cause.

Professor A K Gupta, Medical Superintendent of PGI, said organ donation is a social responsibility and everyone must collaborate and synergise to make this National Programme on Organ Donation a success. "The college has not only highlighted the need to talk about the cause among the students but also set an example for other institutions to follow," he said.

Professor Binu Dogra, Principal of PGGCG-42, during the camp, proposed to make the campaign a part of other student engagement activities as well. Responding to queries posed by the participants pertaining to prevalent myths and misconceptions, the transplant coordinator from PGI said the camp provided a good platform to reach out and sensitise the students about the cause.

The talk was followed by a documentary on the success story of organ transplant at PGI which triggered an extremely engaging discussion and experience sharing by the participants on the subject. PGI, this year, conducted the highest number of cadaver donations compared to previous years. For the first time, 42 cadaver donations were conducted at the institute. The PGI officials said the growing awareness among the public has led to an increase in organ donation cases at the institute.

अंगदान करना सामाजिक कर्तव्य : प्रो. एके गुप्ता

जागरण संवाददाता, चंडीगढ़ : अंगदान करना हर इंसान का सामाजिक कर्तव्य है। मरने के बाद शरीर के किसी भाग का कोई इस्तेमाल मरे हुए इंसान के इस्तेमाल के लिए नहीं होता है। ऐसे में यदि शरीर के कुछ अंगों का दान कर दें तो उससे कई लोगों को जिंदगियां मिल सकती हैं और इंसान दूसरे के शरीर में जाकर भी जिंदा रह सकता है। यह कहना है पीजीआई के मेडिकल सुपरिटेण्डेंट प्रो. एके गुप्ता का। पोस्ट ग्रेजुएट गवर्नमेंट कॉलेज फॉर गर्ल्स सेक्टर-42 में एनएसएस कैंप के दौरान पीजीआई के द्वारा जागरूकता शिविर का आयोजन किया गया। जिसमें कैंप में भाग लेनी वाली छात्राओं को अंगदान के बारे में बताया गया। 62 छात्राओं ने अंगदान की ली शपथ : एनएसएस कैंप में 80 के करीब छात्राओं ने भाग लिया था। जागरूकता शिविर के बाद 62 छात्राओं ने अंगदान करने का संकल्प लिया और साथ ही अपने घर और परिवार को अंगदान के प्रति प्रेरित करने का भी जिम्मा लिया।

चंडीगढ़, 28 दिसम्बर (रश्मि रोहिला) : पोस्ट ग्रेजुएट गवर्नमेंट कॉलेज सैक्टर-46 में अंगदान पर विशेष सत्र का आयोजन किया गया। इसमें वक्ता के तौर पर मोहाली स्थित फोर्टिस अस्पताल के कंसल्टेंट नैफ्रोलॉजिस्ट डॉ. अमित शर्मा ने बताया कि भारत में वर्तमान दौर में अंगदान की दर प्रति दस लाख पर 0.5 अंगदान की है जबकि कुछ

पश्चिमी देशों में ये दर प्रति 10 लाख की जनसंख्या पर 30 अंगदानों से अधिक है। हमारे देश में अंग प्रत्यारोपण की उच्च दर को तुलना में अंगदान की कम दर के बारे में आम लोगों को जागरूक करने की बेहद सख्त जरूरत है। उन्होंने कहा कि नवजात शिशुओं के साथ ही वरिष्ठ नागरिक भी अंगदानी बन सकते हैं।
